For: AUTOMATED BRAIN MRI AND CT PRESCRIPTIONS IN TALAIRACH
SPACE

AFFIDAVIT OF KENNETH L. WEISS

STATE OF Ohio)
) ss:
COUNTY OF Hamilton)

1. I, Kenneth L. Weiss, state that I am a co-author, along with Judd Storrs, Jane L. Weiss, and William Strubb of the article CT Brain Prescriptions in Talairach Space: A New Clinical Standard, which was published in the American Journal of Neuroradiology, volume 25, pages 233-237, February 2004.
2. I, along with Hai Pan, Judd Storrs, William Strub, Jane L. Weiss, Li Jia and O. Petter Eldevik, am a co-author of the article Clinical Brain MR Imaging Prescriptions in Talairach Space: Technologist- and Computer-Driven Methods, which was published in the American Journal of Neuroradiology, volume 24, pages 922-929, May 2003.
3. U.S. Patent Application 10/803,700 ("the '700 application") was filed on March 18, 2004, listing myself as the sole inventor.
4. I am familiar with both papers, as well as the question of whether any of the individual listed as co-authors on those papers should be listed as inventors on the '700 application.
5. I affirm that the subject matter of the claims of the '700 application was invented by me, and was not derived from any of the co-authors of either of the papers listed above.
6. The contributions of the other co-authors to the papers are as follows:

- Hai Pan: Under my direction, wrote the software code for the invention that I conceived. He was predominantly responsible for the computer programming aspects of the project.
- Judd Storrs: De-identified studies, made measurements, ran/integrated SPM software with 2D sagittal images, and did statistical analysis
- William Strub: Made measurements, paper review/editing
- Jane L. Weiss: Made measurements, regulatory affairs
- Li Jia: Performed some basic programming and data manipulation tasks
- O. Petter Eldevik: Helped institute my clinical 3-step protocol at the University of Michigan and train technologists

Kenneth L. Weiss

BE IT REMEMBERED, That on this 16 day of July, 2007, before me, a Notary Public, personally appeared Kenneth L. Weiss, who I am satisfied is the person named in and who executed the foregoing instrument in my presence, and I having first made known to him the contents thereof, he did acknowledge that he signed, sealed, and delivered the same as his voluntary act and deed for the uses and purposes therein expressed.
